

News of the Woman's Clubs

THE General Federation Magazine, heretofore published at Troy, N. Y., has moved its offices to New York city and has considerably broadened the scope of its work. Its new number is most satisfying and contains reports from nearly all the state federations united in the G. F. W. C. On its outside page it gives as contributing editor, Mrs. Philip N. Moore and as advisory board, Mrs. L. L. Blackburg, Mrs. Percy V. Pennypacker and Mrs. C. H. McMahon of this city, with Dr. Edward J. Wheeler as advisory editor. No one thing could show more clearly the impression made by Utah's representative at the general federation biennial last June than this tribute to her ability, in thus associating her with three of the leading women of the organization. As chairman of the programme committee she won the admiration of the whole assemblage, and in minor matters, important conferences both during the biennial and since then, she has shown rare judgment and signal distinction in the broader work.

One of Mrs. McMahon's suggestions has found embodiment in the publication of a small pamphlet outlining the work of the various departments for co-operation with the state department. It is issued by the readjustment committee, a committee made necessary by the extraordinary growth of the work in the general federation. It devotes a particularly interesting department to the subject of household economics and makes suggestions which in view of the recent Utah gathering in Logan are of more than passing interest. It says in part:

There is at present a needed place for home economics in the club work, if only to emphasize the truth to a criticizing world that the woman's club movement is not blazoning and beating a path that leads away from home, but is steadily giving to the home better knowledge and higher ideals. In order that we may appreciate the rapid development of this part of education it is necessary that we recognize that its introduction into the schools of this country was forced upon us by changed social and economic conditions. Almost without warning, certainly without direct training for the business, the woman has been shown to be the responsible factor in the prosperity of the country. She is the consumer and because this is so the need of learning and of teaching how to consume has become apparent.

The object of these outlines (for club use) is fourfold: (1) To indicate the importance and scope of the variety of subjects grouped under the general title of home economics. (2) To demonstrate the need of adequate preparation for the responsibilities of the administration of a home. (3) To show

Mrs. Charles H. McMahon, auditor of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, who has been made an advisory member of the board for the publication of the Club Woman's Magazine.

how comprehensive is that group of sciences upon which the domestic arts rest. (4) To prove that the content of the study of home economics belongs in the realm of those liberal art subjects which are supposed to yield quality called culture. For the purpose of furthering the subject the clubs are urged to the following definite things: (1) The introduction of and perfecting of home economics work in the public schools and the opening of these departments for outside classes. (2) The placing of home economics literature in the public libraries. (3) The arrangement of state federation programmes to show the help offered by state libraries. (4) The co-operation with universities and agricultural colleges and farmers' institute workers. (5) The appointment on state committees of those who understand the work. Utah has already taken quite a forward step in this matter, having as the head of its state committee Miss Gertrude McChayne of Logan, the head of the extension work of the A. C. Recently a meeting was held in connection with the farmers' roundup with the state president, Mrs. A. J. Gorham, as a speaker, and it is through the efforts of the club women extending over a period of several years that the subject of home economics has been introduced into the school curriculum.

At the Ladies Literary club last Friday a very interesting programme was presented, two entirely different lines of work being taken up by the different speakers. C. L. Rood read an extremely entertaining paper on "The Detective in Fiction," illustrating his subject with many humorous anecdotes and dwelling at length on the humorous side of the subject. Professor F. W. Reynolds gave a talk equally entertaining and amusingly instructive on "University Extension Work." He told of the growth of the movement in connection with the state university, and how in almost every little village in the state the work has been carried on with marked success, and this, too, without any extra appropriation from the legislature for the purposes of extension work. Professor Reynolds reported that there were 350 students regularly registered in the outside towns in the various classes, and that the heads of departments go regularly to these outlying places for the purpose of conducting classes. The music was furnished by Mrs. J. W. Curtis, Mrs. Hallie Foster Sutherland and Miss Blanche Miller. Miss Miller played a piano solo, the Beethoven minuet in G minor. Mrs. Curtis and Mrs. Sutherland sang the duet from "Madame Butterfly," and Mrs. Curtis later sang "Lorelei" by Liszt.

Mrs. Charles H. McMahon, the general federation auditor and also advisory member of the organization for Utah, Nevada, California, Washington and Wyoming, will leave about the middle of April for Washington, D. C., to attend the council meeting to be held there the week of April 22. This meeting includes, besides the officers, the board of directors, the state secretaries of the general federation, the state presidents and the presidents of clubs directly federated. This will include Mrs. Edward Bishel of Ogden from this state, Mrs. A. J. Gorham and others, but it is likely that no one except Mrs. McMahon will go to this special meeting. Speaking of the meeting in a letter, Mrs. Eugene Keilly says "There seems to be much enthusiasm not only in Washington, but in Maryland, Delaware and Virginia, all desiring to co-operate with the district federation in making the council meeting a glorious success. Baltimore more has invited us for a day, Virginia has some places to show us and the Delaware club women will entertain all those passing through their borders."

At the close of the very interesting gathering last Saturday, the annual luncheon of the Spirit of Liberty chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, but too late to convey the message, the chapter regent received the following wire from the state regent, Mrs. Mary M. F. Allen, who is now in Evanston, Ill.: "Greetings and best wishes to the chapter. May present day privileges be accepted as a goodly heritage from those whose memories we revere and of him whose birth we celebrate. May present day duties be performed in emulation of their love for home and country."

"MARY M. FERRY ALLEN."

Professor Maria L. Sanford, formerly dean and now an emerita of the University of Minnesota, is to deliver an address tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on "Moral Power in the Schoolroom." The subject is the same as the one delivered by Professor Sanford at the San Francisco biennial and those who heard her speak at that time are looking forward with renewed interest to the lecture. Professor Sanford has held the highest position in the educational work of her own state

PRESCRIPTION

For a Long Life.

This is the prescription for a long life given by an old gentleman in Connecticut, who is ninety-nine years old and still well and cheerful. "Live temperately, be slow to anger, don't worry, take plenty of exercise in the fresh air, and, above all, keep cheerful."

Should the system get run down—digestive organs weak—the blood thin and sluggish, take Vinol, which is a delicious combination of the medicine—body-building properties of cod's livers, with the useless grease eliminated and tonic iron added. We regard Vinol as one of the greatest body-builders and strength-creators in the world for aged people.

Mrs. Mary Ivey, of Columbus, Ga., says: "If people only knew the good Vinol does old people, you would be unable to supply the demand; it is the finest tonic and strength-creator I ever used."

We wish every feeble old person in this vicinity would try Vinol on this agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. P. S. If you have any skin trouble try Sazo Salve. We guarantee it. Druehl & Franken, Druggists, The Busy Corner, and 271 South Main st., Salt Lake City, Utah.

IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED AND NERVOUS TAKE DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS"

Gently, but thoroughly cleans and regulates your disordered stomach, inactive liver and 30 feet of bowels without griping, nausea or weakness.

A harmless cure for sick headache, for biliousness, for a sour, gassy, disordered stomach, for constipation, indigestion, coated tongue, salivaceous, pimples—take delicious Syrup of Figs. For the cause of all these troubles lies in a torpid liver and sluggish condition of your liver and bowels.

A teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs to-night means all poisonous waste matter, the undigested, fermenting food and sour bile gently moved on and out of your system by morning, without griping, nausea or weakness. It means a cheery day tomorrow—many bright days thereafter.

Please don't think of gentle, effective Syrup of Figs as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself, for luscious figs, senna and aromatics can not injure anyone.

This remarkable fruit preparation is a wonderful stomach, liver and bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic, the safest and most positive ever devised. The day of violent purgatives, such as calomel, pills, salts and castor oil is past. They were all wrong. You get relief, but at what a cost! They act by flooding the bowels with fluids, but these fluids were digestive juices, Syrup of Figs embody only harmless laxative which act in a natural way. It does what right food would do—what eating lots of fruit and what plenty of exercise will do for the liver, stomach and bowels.

Be sure you get the old reliable and genuine. Ask your druggist for the name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Company. Hand back, with secure any Fig Syrup imitation recommended as "just as good." (Advertisement)

Wise Women Will Avoid This Pitfall

Four years ago, our most valuable textile invention, the semi-elastic Lastikops Webbing, was introduced—first in the form of hose supporters, later as part of several Nemo models. It was such a marvelous success that the demand for Nemo Corsets with Lastikops features has become prodigious. Women have learned that some elastic parts are required to make a very long corset comfortable.

Here's the PITFALL: Other manufacturers, having become experts in imitating Nemo ideas, are pursuing their usual tactics by making imitations of Nemo Lastikops Corsets, but; having nothing new or better, they are compelled to use the same old, feeble elastics which were discarded as worthless years ago—the same old elastics which gave you all your hose-supporter trouble.

Lastikops Webbing, and all other Nemo elastic fabrics are used ONLY in NEMO CORSETS. This is to warn you against throwing your money away on imitations. Insist upon seeing the LASTIKOPS trade-mark on all elastics and in the corsets. That is your only Guarantee of Safety. BE WISE!
